Two Crops a Year.

Mrs. R. V. Pearce of 604 North avenue is quite a success as an amateur chicken raiser. On March 8th one of her hens hatched eight Leghorn pullets. All of these pullets were laying by the time they were four and one-half months old and one of them hatched out a brood of chickens on September 1st, just one week before she was six months old. Can any chicken raisers beat this pullet's time?

Big Tent Theatre Tonight—"Theima."

"The Boss of 'Z' Ranch," was the offering of the Gertrude Ewing company last night at the big tent theatre, a large audience was present which made manifest its appreciation by hearty applause and laughter. The play was well presented and each member of the company did full credit to the parts. Miss Ewing has a good supporting company and with her past reputation and class of plays she is offering a successful week is assured her if the weather permits.

The tent theatre is the finest ever seen here and is quite an enterprise for a woman.

Tonight Miss Ewing offers Marie Correll's famous story of the north, "Theima." Friday night Duma's famous play "Camille," is announced when Miss Ewing will wear the original director's gown that created the sensation in Kansas City when first displayed there on a living model.

There will also be a matinee Saturday at 2:30 for the school children and ladies who can't attend at night. 1,000 seats at 10 cents is the admission price at the big tent theatre, which is one block north of the Frisco depot.
